

Starperi
I read the whole year ahead against your chart. Grab a tea ✨

SAMPLE REPORT
This reading is for made-up people, so you can see what a real one looks like. Yours is written from your own birth details. Nothing here is about a real person.

Your year ahead

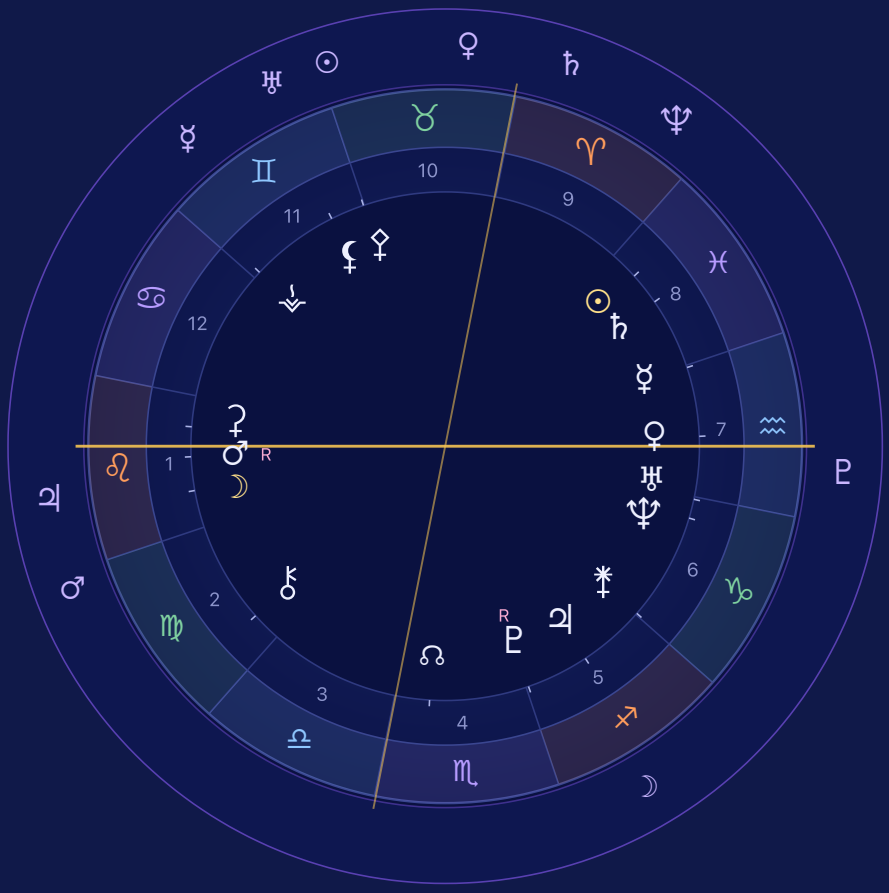

A big friendly planet is parked in the part of your chart about how you come across, and a steady one has your back. Bring snacks and a calendar.

☉ Sun ♓ Pisces | ☽ Moon ♌ Leo | AC Rising ♌ Leo | 20 Nov 2026 - 19 Nov 2027

The theme of your year

Picture a theater an hour before opening night. Somebody is slowly raising the house lights on you while the crew at the back checks the ropes. That is the shape of your year. Jupiter, the planet of growth and generosity, spends the early months in Leo, in your 1st house (the area of you and how you come across), right on top of your birth Moon in Leo, the part of you that decides what feels safe and welcome. Meanwhile Saturn, the planet of patience, works in Aries from your 9th house (big ideas, travel and learning) and sends friendly angles to your Moon, your rising sign (the way people meet you) and your Mars (your drive). So the first stretch is about being seen, feeling it, and building on something solid. Around the middle of the year Jupiter slips into Virgo and your 2nd house (money and your own things), and the second half turns practical: sorting, valuing, deciding what deserves your time. None of this is a verdict. It is a stage, and you still write the lines.

Your chart wheel

☉ Sun ☽ Moon ☿ Mercury ♀ Venus ♂ Mars ♃ Jupiter ♄ Saturn ♅ Uranus ♆ Neptune
♇ Pluto ☊ North Node ⚷ Chiron ⚸ Lilith ⚳ Ceres ⚴ Pallas ⚵ Juno ⚶ Vesta

☌ side by side: they blend ⚹ a gentle nudge △ easy flow □ friction ☍ tug of war

The big meetings between the sky and your chart

Jupiter meets your Moon: the dough that rises twice

Bakers know that good bread rises twice, and the second rise is the one that makes it fluffy. This is that. Jupiter (growth, generosity, 'a little more of everything') in Leo lines up with your birth Moon in Leo, a conjunction (two bodies sitting at the same spot in the sky), and it is spot on both times: on February 15 and again on June 8. The whole stretch is felt from January 31 until June 20. Two meetings happen because Jupiter turns retrograde (it looks like it is moving backward, seen from Earth) in December and goes forward again in April, so it passes your Moon twice. Your Moon is what you need to feel safe and cared for, and it lives in your 1st house (you and how you come across). That tends to make your feelings easier to read on your face, and your warmth easier to hand out. A suspicious habit: you probably say 'oh, no fuss' and then quietly count who remembered. This is a good stretch to let people fuss. Mini experiment: accept one compliment a week without paying it back with interest.

Because

transiting ♃ Jupiter ☌ conjunct your ☽ Moon (♌ Leo), 0.0° from exact, 15 Feb; active 31 Jan – 20 Jun; exact: 15 Feb, 8 Jun

transiting ♃ Jupiter in your 1st house (♌ Leo), 20 Nov – 25 Jul

☽ Moon in ♌ Leo, 21.5°, house 1

♃ Jupiter retrograde · 13 Dec (♌ Leo), until 13 Apr

♃ Jupiter turns direct · 13 Apr

Saturn and your rising sign: the boots that are finally broken in Everyone owns that one pair of walking boots that hurt for a month and then became the only shoes worth wearing. Saturn (patience, structure) is making a trine (a friendly angle where two bodies get along without effort) to your rising sign in Leo. The rising sign is the sign that was coming up over the eastern horizon when you were born, and it shapes how people meet you. From January 21 to March 3 the angle is active, and on February 13 it is spot on. Saturn works from Aries in your 9th house (big ideas, travel and learning), so the support comes through learning and a wider view. What it may feel like: confidence that is earned instead of performed, and a pace you can name without apologizing. In the same weeks Saturn also makes a friendly angle to your Mars, peaking on March 7. A suspicious habit: you probably take one extra second at the door to arrange your face into 'effortless'. Try this once: say 'let me think about it' out loud, with no apology attached.

Because

transiting ♄ Saturn △ trine your AC Rising (♌ Leo), 0.0° from exact, 13 Feb; active 21 Jan – 3 Mar; exact: 13 Feb

transiting ♄ Saturn in your 9th house (♈ Aries), 20 Nov – 19 Nov

AC Rising in ♌ Leo, 11.4°, house 1

transiting ♄ Saturn △ trine your ♂ Mars (♌ Leo), 0.0° from exact, 7 Mar; active 17 Feb – 23 Mar; exact: 7 Mar

Saturn and your Moon: cruise control for the feelings

On a long highway drive, the moment you set cruise control your shoulders drop and you start noticing the scenery. That is the mood of this one. Saturn in Aries, in your 9th house (big ideas, travel and learning), makes a friendly angle to your Moon in Leo. It builds from April 22, is spot on on May 8, and stays within reach through the end of your year, even after Saturn turns retrograde in August. The Moon is what you need to feel safe, and Saturn is the planet of structure, so the pairing tends to feel like a calm, steady rhythm instead of a cold one. Think of a standing Sunday call, a weekly walk, a shelf where your favorite things live. A suspicious habit: when your feelings get loud you probably make a plan, and then make a second plan to organize the first. For once, that is a perfectly good strategy. Small experiment: choose one comforting routine and keep it for four weeks.

Because

transiting ♄ Saturn △ trine your ☽ Moon (♌ Leo), 0.0° from exact, 8 May; active 22 Apr – 19 Nov; exact: 8 May

transiting ♄ Saturn in your 9th house (♈ Aries), 20 Nov – 19 Nov

☽ Moon in ♌ Leo, 21.5°, house 1

♄ Saturn retrograde · 10 Aug (♈ Aries)

Jupiter and your Midheaven: the GPS with a kind voice

Every GPS has that moment of 'recalculating', and the best ones say it kindly. Late July brings a version of that. Your Midheaven, or MC (the point at the very top of your chart, linked to career direction and public image), sits in Taurus. Between July 17 and August 5, Jupiter makes a trine (a friendly angle) to it, and it is spot on on July 27, the day after Jupiter moves from Leo into Virgo and your 2nd house (money and your own things). Virgo and Taurus are both earth signs, so they speak the same practical language. What it may feel like: your sense of direction gets a little clearer, and the question 'what do I want to be known for?' stops sounding like a pop quiz. Nothing is promised, but your ideas may find a friendlier audience. Quick one: write down three things you would like to be known for, in your own words, and tape the list where you will see it.

Because

transiting ♃ Jupiter △ trine your MC Midheaven (♉ Taurus), 0.0° from exact, 27 Jul; active 17 Jul – 5 Aug; exact: 27 Jul

transiting ♃ Jupiter in your 2nd house (♍ Virgo), 26 Jul – 19 Nov

MC Midheaven in ♉ Taurus, 0.2°, house 10

♃ Jupiter enters ♍ Virgo · 26 Jul

Jupiter checks in with itself: the closet clear-out

Every closet has three piles: keep, donate, and 'maybe I'll wear it someday'. This stretch asks you to be honest about the third one. Jupiter in Virgo, now in your 2nd house (money and your own things), makes a square (a tense angle that nudges you to adjust) to your birth Jupiter in Sagittarius, which lives in your 5th house (fun, romance and creativity). In plain words: the careful, practical Jupiter meets the 'let's just go!' Jupiter. The window runs from September 24 to October 13, and it is spot on on October 3. What it may feel like: a friendly argument between 'sensible' and 'adventurous', and a good moment to notice which of your commitments still make you glad. A suspicious habit: you probably keep one hobby on life support because quitting feels rude to the hobby. Tiny test: put one thing you have been pretending to enjoy in the donate pile, and put one thing you miss back on the calendar.

Because

transiting ♃ Jupiter □ square your ♃ Jupiter (♐ Sagittarius), 0.1° from exact, 3 Oct; active 24 Sep – 13 Oct; exact: 3 Oct

transiting ♃ Jupiter in your 2nd house (♍ Virgo), 26 Jul – 19 Nov

♃ Jupiter in ♐ Sagittarius, 14.9°, house 5

♃ Jupiter, house 5

Jupiter faces your Sun: the see-saw at the finish line

On a playground see-saw, nothing works until both sides agree to take turns. Your year ends on one. Jupiter in Virgo sits directly across from your Sun in Pisces, an opposition (two bodies facing each other from opposite sides of the chart). Your Sun is your core self, and it lives in your 8th house (shared things and deep change). The angle builds from November 8, and by November 19, the last day of your year, it is nearly spot on, so the story carries on into the next chapter. The tension is easy to picture: Virgo's neat checklist on one end, Pisces' daydreams and big feelings on the other. Jupiter tends to magnify whatever it touches, so you may notice both sides getting louder and more generous at once. A suspicious habit: you probably have a to-do list and a Big Feeling, and you forget that the feeling is also an item. Last-day experiment: write one practical line and one feeling line, and see where they agree.

Because

transiting ♃ Jupiter ☍ opposite your ☉ Sun (♓ Pisces), 0.2° from exact, 19 Nov; active 8 Nov – 19 Nov

transiting ♃ Jupiter in your 2nd house (♍ Virgo), 26 Jul – 19 Nov

☉ Sun in ♓ Pisces, 23.5°, house 8

☉ Sun, house 8

The slow planets this year

	Planet	Sign	House	Turns around
♃	Jupiter	♌ Leo → ♍ Virgo	house 1 → house 2	13 Dec – 13 Apr
♄	Saturn	♈ Aries	house 9	until 11 Dec 10 Aug – continues
♅	Uranus	♊ Gemini	house 11	until 9 Feb 15 Sep – continues
♆	Neptune	♈ Aries	house 9	until 13 Dec 10 Jul – continues
♇	Pluto	♒ Aquarius	house 7	9 May – 18 Oct

Think of the slow planets as the bass section of an orchestra: you feel them more than you hear them. Jupiter starts the year in Leo, in your 1st house (you and how you come across), and moves into Virgo on July 26, which takes it into your 2nd house (money and your own things). Saturn (structure) and Neptune (imagination) both spend the year in Aries, in your 9th house (big ideas, travel and learning), so your plans get a reality check and a daydream, sometimes in the same afternoon. Uranus, the planet of surprise, works in Gemini through your 11th house (friends, groups and long-term hopes), which tends to make your circle livelier and a little less predictable. Pluto, the slow deep-diver, sits in Aquarius in your 7th house (relationships and partnerships), where it tends to favor real conversations over polite ones. A few of them change gear: Neptune turns retrograde on July 10, Pluto on May 9 (direct again on October 18), and Saturn on August 10. Those are slow background shifts, not weather alarms.

Because

transiting ♃ Jupiter in your 1st house (♌ Leo), 20 Nov – 25 Jul
transiting ♃ Jupiter in your 2nd house (♍ Virgo), 26 Jul – 19 Nov
transiting ♄ Saturn in your 9th house (♈ Aries), 20 Nov – 19 Nov
transiting ♆ Neptune in your 9th house (♈ Aries), 20 Nov – 19 Nov transiting ♅ Uranus in your 11th house (♊ Gemini), 20 Nov – 19 Nov transiting ♇ Pluto in your 7th house (♒ Aquarius), 20 Nov – 19 Nov
♃ Jupiter enters ♍ Virgo · 26 Jul

Month by month

20 Nov - 19 Dec

The first page of the notebook

24 Nov Full moon: ♊ Gemini

9 Dec New moon: ♐ Sagittarius

Every fresh notebook has the same first-page problem: you want to write something worth the paper. Relax, the sky does not grade handwriting. The Full Moon on November 24 lights your 11th house (friends, groups and long-term hopes), a good week to notice who you actually enjoy being around. On December 9 a New Moon (the dark Moon, a fresh page for the month) arrives in your 5th house (fun, romance and creativity): doodle first, plan later. Mid-month the big planets shift gears. Saturn goes direct on December 11, Neptune on December 13 (direct means moving forward again, seen from Earth), and Jupiter turns retrograde that same day. Try putting one thing you want to do purely for fun on page one.

Because

Full moon · 24 Nov · ♊ Gemini 2.3°, your house 11: friends, groups and long-term hopes

New moon · 9 Dec · ♐ Sagittarius 17.0°, your house 5: fun, romance and creativity

♃ Jupiter retrograde · 13 Dec (♌ Leo), until 13 Apr

♄ Saturn turns direct · 11 Dec

♆ Neptune turns direct · 13 Dec

20 Dec - 19 Jan

Slow lane, then reverse gear

24 Dec Full moon: ♋ Cancer
7 Jan New moon: ♑ Capricorn
♂ Mars retrograde: starts

It is the week between the holidays, nobody knows what day it is, and the fridge is mostly leftovers. The Full Moon on December 24 falls in your 12th house (rest, inner life and things behind the scenes), which makes doing less feel almost official. By the New Moon on January 7, in your 6th house (daily routine and habits), your calendar wakes up and wants a say. Then on January 11 Mars, the planet of drive, turns retrograde in Virgo. Think of parallel parking: you reverse a little to line up, and then you glide in. Mars stays in reverse until April 2, so if a project stalls, it may simply be lining up its angle. Pick one habit, make it smaller than seems worth it, and give it two weeks.

Because

Full moon · 24 Dec · ♋ Cancer 2.2°, your house 12: rest, inner life and things behind the scenes
New moon · 7 Jan · ♑ Capricorn 17.3°, your house 6: daily routine and habits ♂ Mars retrograde · 11 Jan (♍ Virgo), until 2 Apr

20 Jan - 19 Feb

Everything arrives at once

22 Jan Full moon: ♌ Leo
6 Feb New moon: ♒ Aquarius
6 Feb solar eclipse (annular): ♒ Aquarius
☿ Mercury retrograde: starts
♂ Mars retrograde: ongoing

Some months are a juggling act: three balls are already in the air when somebody hands you a fourth. The Full Moon on January 22 sits in Leo, in your 1st house (you and how you come across), so the spotlight is hard to dodge. On February 6 a solar eclipse (a New Moon that blocks part of the Sun and tends to mark a turning point in one area of life) falls in your 7th house (relationships and partnerships). Uranus turns direct on February 9, and on February 10 Mercury, the planet of messages and thinking, turns retrograde. Saturn meets your rising sign on February 13 and Jupiter meets your Moon on February 15, as described above. Catch one ball at a time, and give important messages a night's sleep before you answer.

Because

Full moon · 22 Jan · ♌ Leo 2.2°, your house 1: you and how you come across solar eclipse (annular) · 6 Feb · ♒ Aquarius 17.6°, your house 7: relationships and partnerships
New moon · 6 Feb · ♒ Aquarius 17.6°, your house 7: relationships and partnerships ♅ Uranus turns direct · 9 Feb ☿ Mercury retrograde · 10 Feb (♓ Pisces), until 4 Mar
transiting ♃ Jupiter ☌ conjunct your ☽ Moon (♌ Leo), 0.0° from exact, 15 Feb; active 31 Jan – 20 Jun; exact: 15 Feb, 8 Jun
transiting ♄ Saturn △ trine your AC Rising (♌ Leo), 0.0° from exact, 13 Feb; active 21 Jan – 3 Mar; exact: 13 Feb

20 Feb - 19 Mar

Update complete, please restart

20 Feb Full moon: ♍ Virgo
8 Mar New moon: ♓ Pisces
20 Feb lunar eclipse (penumbral, subtle): ♍ Virgo
☿ Mercury retrograde: ends
♂ Mars retrograde: ongoing

You know the update that says 'about one minute remaining' for forty minutes? On March 4 Mercury turns direct again, and the progress bar finally moves. The month opens with a Full Moon on February 20 in Virgo, in your 2nd house (money and your own things). It brings a faint penumbral lunar eclipse (the Moon only brushes Earth's pale outer shadow), loosely across from your Mercury, so treat it as a light note, not a headline. On March 7 Saturn makes a spot-on friendly angle to your Mars, which tends to make steady effort feel more natural. The New Moon on March 8, in your 8th house (shared things and deep change), invites one honest conversation. Small restart: pick something you paused in February and give it ten minutes.

Because

lunar eclipse (penumbral, subtle) · 20 Feb · ♍ Virgo 2.0°, your house 2: money and your own things; opposite your ☿ Mercury (2.5°)
Full moon · 20 Feb · ♍ Virgo 2.1°, your house 2: money and your own things ☿ Mercury turns direct · 4 Mar
transiting ♄ Saturn △ trine your ♂ Mars (♌ Leo), 0.0° from exact, 7 Mar; active 17 Feb – 23 Mar; exact: 7 Mar
New moon · 8 Mar · ♓ Pisces 17.6°, your house 8: shared things and deep change

20 Mar - 19 Apr

Green light, finally

22 Mar Full moon: ♎ Libra
6 Apr New moon: ♈ Aries
♂ Mars retrograde: ends

A traffic light stays red for three months, turns green, and the car behind you honks anyway. That is the vibe as two planets move forward again: Mars goes direct on April 2, and Jupiter goes direct on April 13, both in Leo. After months of reverse gear and second thoughts, plans tend to feel less sticky. The Full Moon on March 22 sits in your 3rd house (chats, messages and your close surroundings), a decent night to answer the message you keep rewriting in your head. The New Moon on April 6 opens your 9th house (big ideas, travel and learning), a clean page for a new curiosity. Look up one thing you would like to learn and read only the first page. That counts.

Because

Full moon · 22 Mar · ♎ Libra 1.6°, your house 3: chats, messages and your close surroundings ♂ Mars turns direct · 2 Apr
New moon · 6 Apr · ♈ Aries 17.0°, your house 9: big ideas, travel and learning
♃ Jupiter turns direct · 13 Apr

20 Apr - 19 May

Seeds and a calmer Moon

20 Apr Full moon: ♏ Scorpio
6 May New moon: ♉ Taurus

At every family gathering, everyone ends up in the kitchen, however nice the living room is. The Full Moon on April 20 shines on your 4th house (home and family) with that same pull: who do you want near when the lights are low? Then the New Moon on May 6 lands in Taurus, in your 10th house (work, reputation and being seen), the right sign for planting seeds slowly. Nothing loud, just something small in the soil. Saturn's spot-on friendly angle to your Moon, described above, peaks on May 8, a calmer rhythm for feelings. On May 9 Pluto turns retrograde in Aquarius, a slow inward turn that mostly works in the background. Plant one small seed in your work corner, a sketch, a draft or a sentence, and leave it alone for a week.

Because

Full moon · 20 Apr · ♏ Scorpio 0.6°, your house 4: home and family
New moon · 6 May · ♉ Taurus 15.7°, your house 10: work, reputation and being seen
transiting ♄ Saturn △ trine your ☽ Moon (♌ Leo), 0.0° from exact, 8 May; active 22 Apr – 19 Nov; exact: 8 May ♇ Pluto retrograde · 9 May (♒ Aquarius), until 18 Oct

20 May - 19 Jun

The group chat wakes up

20 May Full moon: ♏ Scorpio
4 Jun New moon: ♊ Gemini
19 Jun Full moon: ♐ Sagittarius
☿ Mercury retrograde: starts

Somebody finally revives the group chat that has been silent for months. The month opens with a Full Moon on May 20 in your 4th house (home and family), a last quiet evening before the chat gets loud. Then the New Moon on June 4 lands in Gemini, in your 11th house (friends, groups and long-term hopes), the corner of your chart for your circle. On June 8 Jupiter makes its second spot-on pass over your Moon. On June 11 Mercury turns retrograde in Cancer, so before you reply to everyone, check who is actually in the chat. The Full Moon on June 19 lights your 5th house (fun, romance and creativity) and rewards an unscheduled good time. Send one 'thinking of you' message with no agenda, and let the silence be someone else's problem.

Because

Full moon · 20 May · ♏ Scorpio 29.2°, your house 4: home and family New moon · 4 Jun · ♊ Gemini 14.0°, your house 11: friends, groups and long-term hopes
transiting ♃ Jupiter ☌ conjunct your ☽ Moon (♌ Leo), 0.0° from exact, 15 Feb; active 31 Jan – 20 Jun; exact: 15 Feb, 8 Jun ☿ Mercury retrograde · 11 Jun (♋ Cancer), until 5 Jul Full moon · 19 Jun · ♐ Sagittarius 27.6°, your house 5: fun, romance and creativity

20 Jun - 19 Jul

Low tide

4 Jul New moon: ♋ Cancer
18 Jul Full moon: ♑ Capricorn
18 Jul lunar eclipse (penumbral, subtle): ♑ Capricorn
☿ Mercury retrograde: ends

Low tide is not a failure. It is just the hour when you can see what the sea has been hiding. The New Moon on July 4 falls in Cancer, in your 12th house (rest, inner life and things behind the scenes), and one day later Mercury turns direct in Gemini, so conversations tend to run smoothly again. On July 10 Neptune, the planet of imagination, turns retrograde in Aries, which can make big ideas look a little blurry until you view them in plain daylight. The Full Moon on July 18 sits in your 6th house (daily routine and habits) with a faint penumbral lunar eclipse, nothing dramatic, only a nudge to tidy one small habit. Leave one evening unplanned on purpose, and see what the tide brings back.

Because

New moon · 4 Jul · ♋ Cancer 12.0°, your house 12: rest, inner life and things behind the scenes ☿ Mercury turns direct · 5 Jul
♆ Neptune retrograde · 10 Jul (♈ Aries)
Full moon · 18 Jul · ♑ Capricorn 25.8°, your house 6: daily routine and habits lunar eclipse (penumbral, subtle) · 18 Jul · ♑ Capricorn 26.0°, your house 6: daily routine and habits

20 Jul - 19 Aug

The points switch

2 Aug New moon: ♌ Leo
17 Aug Full moon: ♒ Aquarius
2 Aug solar eclipse (total): ♌ Leo 17 Aug lunar eclipse (penumbral, subtle): ♒ Aquarius

A train changes tracks with one small click, and passengers notice only when the view changes. Yours comes in late July. On July 23 Jupiter faces your Mercury, spot on, so the talker in you may overpromise. On July 26 Jupiter moves into Virgo and your 2nd house (money and your own things), and on July 27 it makes the friendly angle to your Midheaven. On August 2 a total solar eclipse (also a New Moon) falls in Leo, in your 1st house (you and how you come across), with a slight link to your rising sign: a gentle reset of your entrance. The August 17 Full Moon, in your 7th house (relationships and partnerships), carries a faint lunar eclipse, loosely across from your Moon. Before any yes, a tiny pause: 'let me check my calendar' is a full sentence.

Because

transiting ♃ Jupiter ♂ opposite your ☿ Mercury (♒ Aquarius), 0.0° from exact, 23 Jul; active 13 Jul – 1 Aug; exact: 23 Jul

♃ Jupiter enters ♍ Virgo · 26 Jul

transiting ♃ Jupiter △ trine your MC Midheaven (♉ Taurus), 0.0° from exact, 27 Jul; active 17 Jul – 5 Aug; exact: 27 Jul solar eclipse (total) · 2 Aug · ♌ Leo 9.9°, your house 1: you and how you come across; right next to your AC Rising (1.5°)

New moon · 2 Aug · ♌ Leo 9.9°, your house 1: you and how you come across lunar eclipse (penumbral, subtle) · 17 Aug · ♒ Aquarius 24.1°, your house 7: relationships and partnerships; opposite your ☽ Moon (2.6°)

Full moon · 17 Aug · ♒ Aquarius 24.2°, your house 7: relationships and partnerships

20 Aug - 19 Sep

Everything in its drawer

31 Aug New moon: ♍ Virgo
15 Sep Full moon: ♓ Pisces

There is a particular joy in a toolbox where every screwdriver has its own slot. Virgo season is made for it. The New Moon on August 31 falls in Virgo, in your 2nd house (money and your own things), where Jupiter is now walking, so this is a good moment to sort what you own, value and give your attention to. No big decisions are needed; labels are enough. On September 15 the Full Moon in Pisces, your Sun's own sign, lights your 8th house (shared things and deep change), and feelings you have kept in a drawer may ask for air. The same day Uranus turns retrograde in Gemini, which slows the surprises to a manageable trickle. Mini experiment: relabel one thing, a folder, a drawer or a list, with what it is actually for now.

Because

New moon · 31 Aug · ♍ Virgo 8.1°, your house 2: money and your own things Full moon · 15 Sep · ♓ Pisces 22.9°, your house 8: shared things and deep change ♅ Uranus retrograde · 15 Sep (♊ Gemini)

20 Sep - 19 Oct

Open the drafts folder

30 Sep New moon: ♎ Libra
15 Oct Full moon: ♈ Aries
☿ Mercury retrograde: starts

Everyone has a drafts folder full of messages that almost got sent. October invites you to open it. The New Moon on September 30, in Libra and your 3rd house (chats, messages and your close surroundings), is a fresh start for conversations. On October 3 the Jupiter square asks which commitments stay. Mercury turns retrograde on October 8, in Scorpio, a fine excuse to reread before sending, though not to avoid sending forever. The Full Moon on October 15 in Aries lights your 9th house (big ideas, travel and learning), and on October 18 Pluto turns direct in Aquarius, so its slow pull toward honest closeness picks up again. Choose one draft, cut it to three sentences, and send it. Three is plenty.

Because

New moon · 30 Sep · ♎ Libra 6.7°, your house 3: chats, messages and your close surroundings
transiting ♃ Jupiter □ square your ♃ Jupiter (♐ Sagittarius), 0.1° from exact, 3 Oct; active 24 Sep – 13 Oct; exact: 3 Oct ☿ Mercury retrograde · 8 Oct (♏ Scorpio), until 29 Oct
Full moon · 15 Oct · ♈ Aries 22.0°, your house 9: big ideas, travel and learning ♇ Pluto turns direct · 18 Oct

20 Oct - 19 Nov

Choosing the photos

29 Oct New moon: ♏ Scorpio
14 Nov Full moon: ♉ Taurus
☿ Mercury retrograde: ends

The end of a year is when you scroll through your camera roll and notice nineteen pictures of the same sandwich. Time to pick the keepers. On October 29 two things line up: a New Moon in Scorpio, in your 4th house (home and family), and Mercury turning direct in Libra, so conversations that stalled in October tend to move again. The Full Moon on November 14 in Taurus lights your 10th house (work, reputation and being seen), a good night to look at what you have built that others can see. Through the final days Jupiter sets up its opposition to your Sun, described above, which comes to a head just as your year closes. Choose three moments from the last twelve months for your album, and tell them to someone out loud.

Because

New moon · 29 Oct · ♏ Scorpio 5.9°, your house 4: home and family ☿ Mercury turns direct · 29 Oct Full moon · 14 Nov · ♉ Taurus 21.5°, your house 10: work, reputation and being seen
transiting ♃ Jupiter ☍ opposite your ☉ Sun (♓ Pisces), 0.2° from exact, 19 Nov; active 8 Nov – 19 Nov

The sky calendar

♂ Mars retrograde: 11 Jan – 2 Apr solar eclipse (annular), 6 Feb: ♒ Aquarius 17.6° ☿ Mercury retrograde: 10 Feb – 4 Mar lunar eclipse (penumbral, subtle), 20 Feb: ♍ Virgo 2.0° ☿ Mercury retrograde: 11 Jun – 5 Jul lunar eclipse (penumbral, subtle), 18 Jul: ♑ Capricorn 26.0° ♃ Jupiter enters ♍ Virgo: 26 Jul solar eclipse (total), 2 Aug: ♌ Leo 9.9° lunar eclipse (penumbral, subtle), 17 Aug: ♒ Aquarius 24.1° ☿ Mercury retrograde: 8 Oct – 29 Oct

The sky for everyone. Eclipses in the same sign or house as one of your planets are the ones that tend to feel personal.

Three lenses on your year

Love and relationships: the tandem bike

On a tandem bike, one person steers, both pedal, and the real question is who gets to say 'left!' first. That is your relationship lens this year. Pluto, the planet of depth, sits in Aquarius in your 7th house (relationships and partnerships), so closeness tends to prefer real conversations over polite ones. The solar eclipse in February and the Full Moon in August both fall in that same house, like two check-in points on the route. Meanwhile Jupiter on your Moon in the first half of the year makes your warmth easier to read, which is lovely for friendship, family and romance alike. A suspicious habit: you probably hint at what you want and then act surprised when nobody decodes the hint. This year hints get less reliable and sentences get more useful. Mini experiment: once a month, finish the sentence 'What I would really like is' out loud.

Because

transiting ♇ Pluto in your 7th house (♒ Aquarius), 20 Nov – 19 Nov

solar eclipse (annular) · 6 Feb · ♒ Aquarius 17.6°, your house 7: relationships and partnerships

Full moon · 17 Aug · ♒ Aquarius 24.2°, your house 7: relationships and partnerships

transiting ♃ Jupiter ☌ conjunct your ☽ Moon (♌ Leo), 0.0° from exact, 15 Feb; active 31 Jan – 20 Jun; exact: 15 Feb, 8 Jun

Work and direction: edges first

Anyone who has done a jigsaw puzzle knows the rule: edges first, because a frame makes the middle easier. Work and direction this year follow that rule. Saturn in your 9th house (big ideas, travel and learning) tends to reward learning something properly, in small daily doses, instead of cramming. The New Moon in May lands in your 10th house (work, reputation and being seen), a quiet moment to put the first edge piece in place. In late July Jupiter makes a friendly angle to your Midheaven, which can feel like a clearer sense of what you want to be known for. Nothing here promises an outcome; it only highlights where your attention is likely to pay off. A suspicious habit: you probably call a very long to-do list 'a plan'. Try this: write down your top three edge pieces, and do only the first one this week.

Because

transiting ♄ Saturn in your 9th house (♈ Aries), 20 Nov – 19 Nov

New moon · 6 May · ♉ Taurus 15.7°, your house 10: work, reputation and being seen

transiting ♃ Jupiter △ trine your MC Midheaven (♉ Taurus), 0.0° from exact, 27 Jul; active 17 Jul – 5 Aug; exact: 27 Jul

Inner world and rest: the snow globe

You know that moment after a big day when you finally sit down and everything in your head slowly settles, like glitter in a snow globe? The sky gives you two scheduled ones: the Full Moon on December 24 and the New Moon on July 4 both fall in your 12th house (rest, inner life and things behind the scenes). Neptune, the planet of imagination, works in your 9th house (big ideas, travel and learning) all year, which tends to make you daydream about bigger horizons. That is lovely, and it also means a daydream may need one concrete step to feel real. A suspicious habit: you probably have whole conversations in the shower that never happen in real life. Quiet experiment: after each of those two Moons, spend ten minutes writing down what you did not say out loud. Nobody grades it.

Because

Full moon · 24 Dec · ♋ Cancer 2.2°, your house 12: rest, inner life and things behind the scenes

New moon · 4 Jul · ♋ Cancer 12.0°, your house 12: rest, inner life and things behind the scenes

transiting ♆ Neptune in your 9th house (♈ Aries), 20 Nov – 19 Nov

Your year's tiny mission

Once a month, ask one person for something specific that you would normally hope they just guess, then jot down in one line how it went.

If the lights came up on you a little more this year, what would you finally let people see?

Stars incline, they don't decide.

– Starperi

This is a sample. In a real report, your birth details and our copies of the report are deleted from our systems as soon as the email has been sent, and in any case within 1 day.

This text was written by an AI, not by a human astrologer. Starperi is for entertainment only and is not advice of any kind (medical, legal, financial, psychological or otherwise). Stars give hints, they don't decide. To the fullest extent the law allows, Starperi and its operator accept no responsibility for anything you decide or do because of this text.

Starperi